

IN THE BASEBALL WORLD.

NAME OF THE CUP DEFENDER.

F.L. Sargent Thinks if "Flower" Is Chosen It Should Be the Columbine.

Interest in the name to be chosen for the yacht which is to compete with Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock next fall in the race for the America's Cup is by no means confined to yachting. The suggestion that the new defender should be named Goldadero has aroused great opposition among thousands of members of the Columbine Association of Boston, among whom are many artists, writers, horticulturists and botanists in various parts of the country.

A Boston paper said recently that there seemed more than an even chance that Goldadero would be the name placed upon the stern of the new defender, and that while C. Oliver Iselin had had many names under consideration, he had finally narrowed the choice down to two—Goldadero and Eagle—with the former as the favorite. Another Boston paper said that as the challenger from the other side had been named Shamrock, it would certainly be inappropriate to meet her with a vessel called after the American national flower, and that if the new defender is called Goldadero and was successful in her great contest next October it would doubtless fix the Goldadero as America's flower, and the fact that one successful cup defender had been named after the Park Department, that trucks and other traffic wagons may be excluded from the Park only during certain portions of each day. Here is the full text of his bill, in Italics being new, and that in brackets being old:

"An act to amend sections 2 and 10 of chapter 10 of the laws of 1896, entitled 'An Act to lay out and regulate a public driveway in the city of Boston.' Section 2, to read as follows:

"Section 2. To lay out and regulate the public driveway in the city of Boston, known as the 'Columbine' in the Department of Public Parks, for the transportation of merchandise or freight of any description shall be excluded."

The meeting at Bennings should serve as an appetizer for Aqueduct, where the season's racing in this State begins on April 17.

Among the many attractive features presented by the Queen's County Cup is the most interesting.
